

Confidential

April 3rd, 1962.

Dear Mario,

This is sheer curiosity on my part: who of the so-called 'first list' <sup>(or who has not)</sup> has contributed? Don't bother to answer if it is too much trouble. Also, you write that some papers are weak. Could one not ask the authors <sup>of these papers</sup> to cut their contribution down (I believe you had to ask this in any case, having got too many <sup>& too long ones</sup>)? If the paper is weak, it's preferable that it should be short! Please excuse my meddling.

Looking at your 'list of persons who have sent their articles', and trying to remember who was in that first list, I believe that among others Ayer, Bartley and Gombrich are missing. Among those who have promised to send their contribution in time I see the names of Bernays, Frisch and Gallie. I hope you can wait for them. You will remember that Karl once wrote that he would rather have a good In Memoriam vol. than a not so good Festschrift!

As to the Victor Kraft contribution: I suppose the only thing left would be to ask Kraft whether he knows of a translator.
Mind you, this, like everything in this letter, is entirely my <sup>own</sup> suggestion.
I feel that Karl would be strongly opposed to bothering Kraft. Kraft is more than eighty, and although he is still very fit, he has some serious eye trouble and should, if at all possible, not be bothered. He was terribly kind when Karl was in Vienna in hospital (when ~~Karl~~ had his eye operations).

Love to Bill of you Hennie,

Dear Mary,

There is a great possibility on my part: who of the so-called list was contributed? Don't bother to answer if it is too much trouble. Also, you write last name please are weak. Could one not ask the editors to get their contribution down (I believe you did to ask this in any case, having got too many?) Is the paper is very it's preferable that it should be short! Please excuse my apologies.

Looking at your list of persons and have sent their articles in typed to some but who was in that list, I believe that about others than, and I believe are almost a. Some have who have promised to send their contribution in time I see the names of Stewart, French and others. I hope you can help for them. You will remember that I have asked you to send me a good in Memorial you than a not so good Memorial!

As to the Victor Kistiakowski: I suppose the only thing that would be to ask him to write a letter.

His name, like every other in the letter, is written by suggestion

I feel that you will be strongly opposed to entering his name.

He is a very good man, but although he is still very fit, he has some serious eye trouble. It would, if at all possible, not be advised. He was in Vienna in 1941 when he was in Vienna in 1941, and his eye operation.

Love & best of you
