Dear Mario,

Many thanks for two letters. I am so sorry that you have had so much trouble with the Festschrift (people not sending their contributions in time), on top of all your other work.

You do not write how Marta is, and I hope that this means that she is well again.

I am much relieved that Ernst (Gombrich's) contribution came in time, and I hope Bill Bartley's will too. He is one of Karl's quite outstanding students, and very nice. I have written to him, asking him to hurry up.

I am sending you a better copy of the List of Publications, printed only on one side, and with all the missing data added in print (except the data of 1962 (h), (i) and (j) which have not yet come out, but will soon, and almost certainly before there will be any proofs of the book).

Karl is in Stanford tonight, so I can send you only his love and no message,

Hennie,
