

TABOO MORALITY

The most primitive <sup>written</sup> moral codes were collections of don'ts: they prohibited actions of certain kinds rather than regarded to be wicked. They did not encourage good doing.

C6

Inv E2947

PT 108