

CLASSIFICATION OF ETHICAL DOCTRINES

The collection of actual and possible ethical doctrines ("theories") can be partitioned and subdivided in different ways, according to the principium divitionis or viewpoint that one chooses to adopt. We are interested in two such principles, the epistemological^(or methodological) and the substantive (or content) ones.

Box 33 15
FT 146